Most people think being named as a successor trustee of a loved one's living trust is simply an honor.

In reality, it can become one of the most stressful, emotionally difficult, and legally risky responsibilities a family member will ever face--if it's not handled properly.

Unfortunately, many successor trustees are completely unprepared for the job when the time comes.

After the death of a parent, spouse, or loved one, a trustee may suddenly find themselves responsible for:

- handling finances,
- managing real estate,
- dealing with beneficiaries,
- protecting assets,
- paying bills and taxes,

and carrying out legal responsibilities they may not fully understand.

All while trying to cope with grief and family emotions.

What many families do not realize is that some of the biggest trustee mistakes happen within the first few weeks after death.

Trustee often has no idea of what to do and in what order—at a time when he or she may already be under a lot of emotional stress.

Our Successor Trustee's first 30-day checklist is a practical, step-by-step guide to the actions that need to be taken, so nothing critical gets overlooked. It's based on our firm's unique level of experience in helping Successor Trustees handle over 4,000 trust administrations.

Whether you are already acting as Successor Trustee, maybe someday, or know someone else who will, this checklist is an invaluable “go-to” tool to have handy when the time comes.

May 2026 AARP Bulletin identifies six “Red-Hot Scams to Avoid in 2026.”

We want to especially bring two of these scams to your attention since we have heard through various government agency reports — and from clients — that several of these are new wrinkles on old tactics that have been used for some time to trick seniors into losing their money or worse.

One such scam is where a company will call you and claim they have recovered lost government or retirement benefits. Another such scam is where they state you are entitled to some sort of recovery as part of a class action lawsuit or other litigation.

CELEBRITY ESTATE NEWS: Paul Walker's Estate: A Fast Life, A Tragic Death — And Estate Planning Mistakes That Could Have Been Avoided

When actor Paul Walker died suddenly in a high-speed car accident in November 2013 at just 40 years old, millions of fans around the world mourned the loss of one of Hollywood's most recognizable and well-liked stars.

Walker became internationally famous through the Fast & Furious movie franchise, but many fans also remembered him from earlier films such as Varsity Blues, She's All That, and Into the Blue. Unlike many celebrities, Walker had a reputation for being grounded, generous, and deeply devoted to charitable causes.

In fact, he founded and supported Reach Out Worldwide, a disaster relief charity that provided aid after earthquakes, hurricanes, and other catastrophes around the world.

CLIENT TESTIMONIALS

"We want to show our appreciation of the help we got from Attorney Peter Keon, who guided us through the maze of setting up our Living Trust. Peter was so knowledgeable and efficient that he went through 2 inches thick of paper work in a matter of minutes. His advice helped us to identify our intentions and streamlined the process. Thank you Peter for a job well done!"

—Walter T. (Huntington Beach)

"I've been with Kavesh, Minor & Otis since 1996. Jane earned my trust. She always gave me good advice. I feel confident that she will make sure that the transition to the successor trustee will be smooth when I am gone. I also know that the company she recommended as successor trustee is trustworthy."

"Peter Keon did an outstanding job setting up my trust for me. He also teaches classes about trusts too. He helped me. He'll help you too."

—James J. (Rancho Palos Verdes)

Thank you for these wonderful client reviews (all from real clients!). We know that our clients and all the members of our community have many options to choose from when it comes to assisting with their estate planning needs. It is very gratifying to us that people put their trust in us to help them with these important decisions that will impact them and their loved ones for years to come.

Many of our clients have asked how they can support us in return and they have done so by not only referring their friends and family (for example by forwarding this e-mail newsletter), but also by taking the time to leave us an online review (which we'd really appreciate, if you haven't done so already). If you have a moment, please leave a quick online review of your experience with our firm on Google.

Thank you, in advance, for your help! We look forward to continuing to serve you and your loved ones for many more years to come!
